Idea Buzz Think Tank – An Inter-University Case Study Competition

Teerthanker Mahaveer University (TMU), through its Centre for Teaching, Learning and Development (CTLD), successfully organised Idea Buzz Think Tank, an Inter-University Case Study Competition, on 29 October 2026. The event witnessed an impressive registration of 1,111 students, including 60 participants from external institutions such as Galgotias University, MIT, Wilsonia Degree College, RBMI Bareilly and DEWAN VS Institute of Engineering and Technology, Meerut. The competition provided students with a dynamic platform to analyse real-world challenges, demonstrate critical thinking, and develop innovative and practical solutions through teamwork and collaborative decision-making.

The competition concluded with outstanding performances by participating teams, with Team Black Wings (College of Law and Legal Sciences, TMU) securing the Winner position, followed by Team The Veritas (B.Pharm, TMU) as First Runner-Up and Team The Solutionaries (CCSIT, TMU) as Second Runner-Up. Team Victory Vipers from DEWAN VS Institute of Engineering and Technology, Meerut, received the Consolation Prize. The event was graced by Dr. Neha Anand, Assistant Director – Academics, and Prof. Shivanee M. Kaul, Principal, Department of Physiotherapy, as distinguished guests and jury members. The competition was conducted under the guidance of Prof. (Dr.) Pankaj Kumar Singh, Director, CTLD, with Ms. Anvesha Sisodiya as Event Coordinator and Ms. Nidhi Gupta as Co-Coordinator. The initiative reinforced CTLD's commitment to experiential learning, innovation, analytical thinking and holistic student development.

Beyond the competitive outcomes, Idea Buzz Think Tank encouraged students to move beyond conventional classroom learning and engage with practical, real-world problem-solving. The inter-university participation fostered a spirit of healthy competition, peer learning and knowledge exchange, while providing students with an opportunity to strengthen their confidence, presentation abilities and decision-making skills. The initiative reflected TMU's continued emphasis on bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application, nurturing future-ready professionals equipped with creativity, collaboration and critical thinking.

Ideas spark possibilities, collaboration fuels innovation, and critical thinking creates impact. Idea Buzz Think Tank was more than a competition; it was a celebration of young minds daring to think differently. After all, the future belongs to those who question, create and inspire!

“Beyond Class 12: Discover Your Potential, Explore Careers & Shape Your Future”.

The Centre for Teaching, Learning and Development (CTLD), Teerthanker Mahaveer University (TMU), organised expert sessions for Class 12 students of Rainbow Public School and Aryan’s International School, Moradabad, on 13 and 14 October 2026, respectively. The sessions were conducted by Prof. (Dr.) Pankaj Kumar Singh, Director, CTLD, TMU, with the objective of guiding students towards informed academic choices and future career opportunities. The programme witnessed the participation of 46 students from Rainbow Public School and 65 students from Aryan’s International School, bringing together a total of 111 students for these educational interactions. The sessions focused on helping students understand the importance of self-discovery, career exploration and planning for life beyond school education.

The expert sessions highlighted the importance of identifying individual interests, strengths, abilities and aspirations while making decisions about higher education and career pathways. Students were encouraged to broaden their understanding of opportunities available after Class 12 and to explore academic and professional options that align with their personal goals. The discussions emphasised self-awareness, purposeful decision-making and the need to approach future choices with clarity and confidence. By connecting students’ aspirations with career exploration, the sessions provided an opportunity for them to reflect on their potential and consider the possibilities available beyond the immediate school curriculum. The programme also encouraged students to think thoughtfully about their next steps and develop a goal-oriented approach towards their academic and professional journey.

Through these initiatives, CTLD, TMU, reaffirmed its commitment to supporting school students in their transition from school education to higher education and future careers. The sessions aimed to enhance students' awareness of career opportunities, encourage informed academic planning and motivate them to make decisions with confidence and purpose. The participation of students from both schools reflected the importance of such expert interactions in creating awareness about future possibilities and promoting meaningful educational guidance. The programme concluded with an emphasis on self-discovery, career awareness and thoughtful planning, supporting CTLD's broader objective of empowering young learners to recognise their potential and shape their future with greater awareness, confidence and direction.

The sessions concluded with an inspiring message encouraging students to recognise their potential, explore opportunities and make informed decisions about their future. CTLD, TMU, remains committed to empowering young learners through meaningful educational guidance and career awareness initiatives. The programme reinforced the importance of self-discovery, confidence and purposeful planning in shaping a successful future.

"Your future is not decided by your marks alone, but by your dreams, decisions and determination."

✨ Discover your potential. Explore your possibilities. Shape your future!

“The Master Class: How to Win on Campus – From Campus to Career”.

The Centre for Teaching, Learning and Development (CTLD), Teerthanker Mahaveer University (TMU), in association with the College of Pharmacy, organised an expert master class titled “The Master Class: How to Win on Campus – From Campus to Career” on 6 October 2026. The session was conducted by Prof. (Dr.) Pankaj Kumar Singh, Director, CTLD, TMU, for final-year students of the College of Pharmacy. Held from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM at the Seminar Hall, College of Pharmacy, the programme aimed to equip students with essential skills and practical insights to prepare for their transition from academic life to professional careers.

The master class focused on key aspects of career readiness, including resume building, LinkedIn profile development, digital presence, interview preparation and exploring career opportunities. Students were encouraged to understand the importance of presenting their academic achievements, skills and professional interests effectively to prospective employers. The session highlighted the role of a well-structured resume and a professional online profile in creating a strong first impression. It also emphasised interview preparation and career exploration as important steps towards building confidence, improving employability and making informed professional decisions. Through these themes, the programme connected campus learning with the expectations of the professional world.

The initiative reflected CTLD’s commitment to supporting students in their overall professional development and career preparation. By addressing practical employability skills alongside academic learning, the session encouraged final-year students to take proactive steps towards their career goals and prepare themselves for future opportunities. The master class reinforced the importance of continuous learning, professional presentation and purposeful career planning, motivating students to make the most of their campus experience and move forward with confidence as they begin their professional journey.

“Your campus is the starting point; your skills, confidence and preparation will shape the journey ahead.”

Build your profile. Strengthen your skills. Prepare to succeed!

“Career Ready, Future Ready: An Expert Session on Placement Preparation”.

Career Readiness: Preparing Students for the Professional World

The Centre for Teaching, Learning and Development (CTLD), Teerthanker Mahaveer University, in association with Naandi Foundation, organised an online Expert Session on “Career Readiness and Placement Preparation” on 3rd October 2026. The session was conducted by Ms. Bharti Chadda, Executive Soft Skill Trainer – Mahindra Pride Classroom, and witnessed registrations from 264 students across various university programmes, including B.Tech, MBA, B.Pharm, MCA, BBA and B.Sc.

The session commenced with an introductory address by Ms. Bharti Chadda, followed by an insightful message from Prof. Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh, Director, CTLD, who emphasised the importance of continuous career development, professional skills and early preparation for placement opportunities. During the session, Ms. Chadda shared practical insights into resume building, LinkedIn profiling, professional email etiquette, reasoning, group discussions and personal interviews. She also highlighted the importance of presenting one's qualifications, skills and achievements effectively to create a strong professional impression.

The interactive session provided students with an opportunity to raise their queries and receive practical guidance from the expert. With 80 students participating, the programme helped strengthen awareness of industry expectations and encouraged students to take ownership of their career preparation.

The right career begins with the right preparation. The session reinforced an important message: academic knowledge opens doors, but professional skills, confidence and consistent preparation help students make the most of every opportunity.

The programme concluded with a renewed sense of purpose, motivating students to move beyond academic learning and actively develop the skills required to succeed in today’s competitive professional landscape. It reinforced the belief that career readiness is not achieved overnight; it is built through awareness, preparation and consistent effort.

The session served as a valuable step towards bridging the gap between academic learning and industry expectations. Students were encouraged to begin preparing early, continuously refine their professional profiles and approach placement opportunities with confidence. Such initiatives reflect CTLD's commitment to nurturing industry-ready graduates equipped with the right knowledge, skills and professional attitude.

Because success in a career is not just about being qualified; it is about being prepared, confident and ready to make a difference.

CTLD Strengthens Professional Communication and Patient-Centric Skills through October Hospital Staff Training

Date: 10th October & 17th October 2026 Venue: TMU Hospital

The Centre for Teaching, Learning & Development (CTLD), Teerthanker Mahaveer University (TMU), conducted a series of Process Improvement Training sessions for hospital staff during October 2026, focusing on enhancing professional communication and improving the overall patient and attendant experience. The programme featured two important training sessions: "Complaint Handling", conducted on 10 October 2026 by Dr. Jasmine Stephen, and "Email/Phone Etiquette", conducted on 17 October 2026 by Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh. Both sessions were organised at Training Room 638 and aimed to strengthen communication practices among nurses, technicians, support service personnel and other hospital staff.

The Complaint Handling session focused on developing effective approaches to addressing patient and attendant concerns while maintaining professionalism, empathy and clarity. Participants explored the importance of listening carefully, understanding complaints and communicating appropriately in challenging situations. The session received an average score of 4.58 out of 5 across the eight feedback parameters, with particularly strong ratings for clarity of objectives (4.68/5), trainer communication (4.65/5) and subject knowledge (4.62/5). Participant feedback appreciated the explanation method, examples and communication skills demonstrated during the training. The session also highlighted opportunities to further strengthen practical learning through realistic complaint scenarios and role-play activities.

The Email/Phone Etiquette session, conducted by Dr. Pankaj Kumar Singh, emphasised the importance of professional communication in daily hospital operations. The training addressed the relevance of appropriate email and telephone communication, clear expression, professional conduct and effective interaction in workplace situations. The session received an average score of 4.49 out of 5, with content relevance achieving the highest rating of 4.74/5, followed by trainer communication at 4.58/5. All 24 respondents rated the session as Excellent, Very Good or Good, reflecting consistently positive overall feedback. Participants also suggested including practical guidance on professional email formats, subject lines, tone and structure to further enhance workplace application.

A total of 58 feedback responses were received across both training sessions, providing valuable insights into participants' learning experiences and areas for improvement. The consolidated feedback indicated that the sessions addressed relevant communication needs among hospital staff and supported the development of skills applicable to daily professional responsibilities. While Email/Phone Etiquette received consistently positive overall ratings, the Complaint Handling session presented opportunities for further review, particularly in relation to five "Needs Improvement" ratings. The feedback also highlighted the importance of gathering more specific participant suggestions to better understand expectations and improve future training delivery.

Through these initiatives, CTLD reaffirmed its commitment to continuous professional development, service communication and improving the workplace application of essential skills among hospital staff. Future sessions will incorporate additional practical exercises, complaint-resolution role-plays, professional email-writing activities and structured communication techniques. The programme reflects the university's continued efforts to promote effective communication, strengthen patient-centred service practices and support a positive hospital experience.

"Every interaction is an opportunity to build trust, demonstrate empathy and make a difference."

Listen with empathy. Communicate with clarity. Serve with care.

Ms. Shameela Fatima Mirza contributed an insightful article titled "When Lifestyle Becomes a Pressure", published on Monomousumi on 2 October 2026. The article explores how modern lifestyle expectations, social comparisons and the pressure to achieve an ideal way of living can influence individuals' everyday experiences. Through thoughtful reflections, she highlights the challenges of balancing professional responsibilities, personal aspirations, financial limitations and family commitments. Her writing encourages readers to question conventional lifestyle expectations and recognise that individual circumstances, priorities and experiences shape the way people live.

The article emphasises the importance of understanding, accepting and improving one's lifestyle without turning it into a competition or a source of unnecessary stress. Ms. Mirza highlights that meaningful well-being comes not from following unrealistic standards, but from recognising personal circumstances and making choices that are practical and fulfilling. Her contribution promotes empathy, self-awareness and a balanced perspective towards life, encouraging readers to appreciate their own journeys rather than constantly comparing themselves with others. This publication reflects her thoughtful engagement with contemporary social concerns and her ability to present relatable perspectives through writing.

Ms. Shameela Fatima Mirza's article serves as a thoughtful reminder of the importance of maintaining a balanced perspective towards life in an increasingly demanding society. Through her reflections, she encourages readers to look beyond societal expectations, lifestyle comparisons and the pressure to achieve perfection, and instead focus on personal happiness, meaningful relationships and individual growth. Her contribution highlights the significance of self-awareness, emotional well-being and the courage to embrace one's own journey without being influenced by unrealistic standards. The article inspires readers to redefine success in terms of personal satisfaction, peace of mind and the ability to make choices that align with their values and aspirations. This literary contribution reflects her commitment to addressing contemporary social concerns through meaningful writing and promoting a healthier understanding of lifestyle, individuality and well-being. Her message beautifully reinforces the idea that a fulfilling life is not about keeping up with others, but about finding contentment, purpose and happiness in one's own journey.
